About My Green Doctor

My Green Doctor would be pleased to be a NAM Network Organization. We are a web-based service that is used by thousands of healthcare professionals in 43 U.S. States and 61 countries. Our monthly environmental sustainability and climate change newsletter is sent to more than 250,000 health professionals.

My Green Doctor shares with the NAM a focus on Health Care Delivery and Health Professional Education and Communication. My Green Doctor provides tools for environmental sustainability practice management to healthcare clinics, offices, outpatient centers, and surgical centers, and offers abundant teaching resources to encourage wise sustainability and climate choices by patients and communities. Offices learn how to add five minutes of My Green Doctor business to each regular staff meeting. Our “Meeting-by-Meeting Guide” provides a script for each meeting so there is nothing for the office manager to study in advance. The topics include energy and water, recycling, wise uses of chemicals, renewable energy, transportation choices, green purchasing, and foods. My Green Doctor helps health professionals prepare their patients for climate change as well.

The program is science-based, comprehensive, peer-written, non-partisan, easy-to-use, and free. Twenty-one health professional organizations provide it to their members as a free, money-saving membership benefit. For most of these, My Green Doctor is their principal sustainability and climate change service.

My Green Doctor is a non-profit service managed by the My Green Doctor Foundation, a 501©3 charitable organization. We would be pleased to invite the National Academy of Medicine to become a Participating society and to offer My Green Doctor as a resource free to the NAM and free to the members. We hope you will register and look at <https://www.MyGreenDoctor.org> or <https://www.MyGreenDoctor.es> (en Espanol).

Thank you for considering My Green Doctor to become a Network Organization and as a resource for your members.
