

Collaboration for a Value & Science-Driven Learning Health System

National Academy of Medicine Leadership Consortium Value Incentives & Systems Action Collaborative

February 13, 2020

Lecture Room

National Academy of Sciences Building

2101 Constitution Avenue, NW | Washington, DC

Meeting Focus: Engage leaders from public and private sectors to provide feedback and shape progress on ongoing Action Collaborative efforts to accelerate the transition away from fee-for-service toward value and population health and measure improvements in population health.

Motivating Questions:

1. Vision: How can the National Academy of Medicine (NAM) steward progress on accelerating the move to value and population health? What are key indicators of success?
2. Barriers: What are the systemic and organizational barriers that encourage the current fee-for-service environment? What are the challenges to measuring progress toward population health?
3. Strategies: What approaches could be used to address key barriers and ensure that resources are applied in the most efficient and effective manner to yield the best health outcomes at lower cost? What other innovative ideas and protocols are needed to improve health outcomes and lower costs?

Outcomes Anticipated: Feedback on approaches and strategies for accelerating the move toward value and population health, as well as on indicators used to measure progress toward Action Collaborative goals.

8:30 am

Coffee and Light Breakfast Available

9:00 am

Welcome, Introductions & Meeting Overview

Welcome from the National Academy of Medicine

Michael McGinnis, National Academy of Medicine

Opening remarks and meeting overview by Collaborative Co-chairs

Susan DeVore, Premier, Inc.

James Madara, American Medical Association

9:30 am	Health Care Financing Overview
	This session will provide a high-level perspective on the landscape of healthcare financing from the past to where we are now, 10 years after passing the Affordable Care Act (e.g., uninsured, cost trends and burdens, fee-for-service, alternative payment models, health impacts). David Muhlestein, Leavitt Partners
10:00 am	Promising Health Financing Strategies &amp; Results
	This session will identify health financing strategies, incentives, and policies that were designed to improve health outcomes and decrease costs and allow for discussion of the results and impact to date. Jessica Hill, TennCare John Bulger, Geisinger Health Plan Mark Fendrick, University of Michigan
11:00 am	Break
11:15 am	Overcoming Barriers to Paying for Population Health
	This session will provide stakeholder perspectives on opportunities and strategies to accelerate and scale the move toward value and population health. Jason Helgerson, Helgerson Solutions Group Meena Seshamani, Medstar Health Jean Moody-Williams, CMS Mai Pham, Anthem
12:30 pm	Break To Pick Up Lunch

12:45 pm*Lunchtime Discussion on the Value Incentives & Systems Action Collaborative: Foundational Concepts and Activities

This session will review the National Academy of Medicine Leadership Consortium's Value Incentives & Systems' strategic framework and context and focus discussion on indicators that allow for monitoring success toward the goal of improving value and population health. This session will also present a brief update on current Collaborative projects.

Michael McGinnis, National Academy of Medicine

Susan DeVore, Premier, Inc.

James Madara, American Medical Association

Ayodola Anise, National Academy of Medicine

1:30 pm*Impact of Costs in Health Care for Consumers

This session will explore declines in affordability in health care for consumers and will include discussions on the impact of the current health system on individuals and communities, as well as opportunities for action.

Frederick Isasi, Families USA

Gerard Anderson, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health

Jaime King, University of California, San Francisco

Christopher Koller, Milbank Memorial Fund

2:45 pm*Reflection and Opportunities for Action

This session will elicit discussion on ideas, opportunities, and considerations for strategies to improve value and population health, as well as approaches to implement, scale, and measure progress.

Susan DeVore, Premier, Inc.

James Madara, American Medical Association

3:15 pm      Summary Discussion and Closing Remarks

This session will allow Collaborative co-chairs to synthesize the day's discussion and offer a chance for reflection on new opportunities.

Susan DeVore, Premier, Inc.

James Madara, American Medical Association

Michael McGinnis, National Academy of Medicine

3:30 pm      Adjourn