Focus: Foster conversations on the opportunities of the Learning Health System \(LHS\) Shared Commitments Initiative, a project of the NAM Leadership Consortium. This collaboration aims to advance understanding and use the Shared Commitments, which represent the expectations and commitments for health systems on behalf of all health stewards and serve as a framework for building cross-sector trust and alignment.

Anticipated Outcomes: Describe how the NAM will spread and scale the Shared Commitments as a common ground framework to advance learning health systems for improved health and health care, as well as engage stakeholders across the health ecosystem to inspire action that will catalyze broader understanding, adoption, and implementation of the LHS approach across organizations and sectors.
